ALUMNI FINANCIAL CONTRIBUTION

1. ROOK TOWER

Dr.A.P.J. Abdul Kalam was indeed sought after not only in techno-scientific circles, but also by academic institutions. His lifestyle and scientific temper attracted all, most importantly, college students, whom he always invited for interactions.The alumni of Paavai came with an idea to install a statue tower which is in the shape of rook coin of chess board. Rook is a powerful coin in the strategy board that only moves straightly and always be a good checkmate. The alumni have selected the shape as a rook by relating its character to the person whose statue has been placed on the statue tower. The site at where the structure has been raised only consists of backfill soil. The backfill soil would not bear a load of a structure. Initially, to stabilize the soil we have provided cement grouting. As next above the R.R masonry pit was filled with a gravel layer and concrete and finished the substructure. The superstructure was initially started by bringing up the layer of brickwork in rectangular shape. And above this, the structure is continued by circular brickwork to a height of 4ft, and brought up the shape of a rook. At the top of the tower a statue that weighs 250kg i.e. quarter a ton is placed. Finally, the scope of the project was achievedby constructing a 300kg structure on a backfill soil economically.

The installation of this statue had costed around Rs.37, 500 which was voluntarily contributed by our alumni

2. PYRAMID OF GRACE

Grace – Energy of goodness/good spiritual, As per Vastu Shastra Pyramid is the structure full of positive energy which avoids the spreading of negative energy. That's why Egyptians build pyramid to keep their ancestors pharaoh. Likewise we build this "Pyramid of Grace" to spread goodness in our institution. The Pyramid of Grace is the replicate of Egyptian "Giza" pyramid.

The structure is initiated with the foundation made of basalt rocks. Then the upper section of pyramid is constructed by M-Sand bricks as masonry structure. As mentioned the pyramid is replicate of Giza, so we construct the pyramid with 8 sided surfaces with stepped outfit and made color in white and saffron to brighten the pyramid. And finally a Deepam is lamped inside the pyramid to make spiritually good. The structure is initiated and completed by our students with the help of our management.

The installation of this pyramid had costed around Rs.1,65,500 which was voluntarily contributed by our alumni

3. BOOKS FOR DEPARTMENT LIBRARY

The book in hand is a more tangible experience. The alumni have contributed to donating the books to the department of Chemical Engineering and Computer Science and Engineering with equivalent of Rs.1,00,000 to support the researchers, educators and students at Paavai. This is the most fantastic investment towards our community's future. There is no doubt we are proud in our efforts to ensure our supportive bibliophiles can access high-quality books.
